

EDITED BY MURRAY SMITH AND THOMAS E. WARTENBERG

Thinking Through Cinema

Film as Philosophy

Contents

Preface

Murray Smith and Thomas E. Wartenberg Introduction 1

I. THE VERY IDEA OF FILM AS PHILOSOPHY

Paisley Livingston Theses on Cinema as Philosophy 11

Thomas E. Wartenberg Beyond Mere Illustration: How Films Can Be Philosophy 19

Murray Smith Film Art, Argument, and Ambiguity 33

II. POPULAR AMERICAN FILM: ENTERTAINMENT AND ENLIGHTENMENT

Richard Allen Hitchcock and Cavell 43

Lester H. Hunt The Paradox of the Unknown Lover: A Reading of
Letter from an Unknown Woman 55

Dan Flory Spike Lee and the Sympathetic Racist 67

George Wilson Transparency and Twist in Narrative Fiction Film 81

Stephen Mulhall The Impersonation of Personality: Film as Philosophy in Mission: Impossible 97

Daniel Shaw On Being Philosophical and Being John Malkovich 111

Christopher Grau Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind and the Morality of Memory 119

III. CONTINENTAL PHILOSOPHY, CONTINENTAL FILM

Andras Balint Kovacs Sartre, the Philosophy of Nothingness, and the Modern Melodrama 135

Paul C. Santilli Cinema and Subjectivity in Krzysztof Kieślowski 147

Katherine Ince Is Sex Comedy or Tragedy? Directing Desire and Female Auteurship in the Cinema of Catherine Breillat 157

IV. FILM AS "THEORY": THE AVANT-GARDE

Jinhee Choi Apperception on Display: Structural Films and Philosophy 165

Noel Carroll Philosophizing Through the Moving Image: The Case of Serene Velocity 173

Trevor Ponech The Substance of Cinema 187

Whitney Davis The World Rewound: Peter Forgacs's Wittgenstein Tractatus 199

Contributors 213

Selected Bibliography 217

Index 221