

THE PROMISING POTENTIAL

STRONG ARTS,

AND SHORTSIGHTED DISREGARD

STRONG SCHOOLS

OF THE ARTS IN AMERICAN SCHOOLING

— CONTENTS —

part one : CONDITIONS 3

- 1 One Nation, Undercultured and Underqualified 7
- 2 The Arts and Economics: Opportunities Missed,
Misunderstood, and Minimalized 15
- 3 Society and the Schools: A Dynamic Relationship 25

part two : JUSTIFICATION 35

- 4 Recognizing the Arts as Forms of Intelligence 39
- 5 Strong Arts, Strong Schools 46
- 6 Cheating Our Children: Why Every Child Needs the Arts 57
- 7 Improving General Education Through the Arts 67
- 8 Developing New Audiences 74

part three : CURRICULUM 83

- 9 All Arts, All Students 85
- 10 The Arts as Academic, Basic, and Comprehensive 99
- 11 Whose Culture Should Be Taught? 112
- 12 The Shameful Neglect of Creativity 119
- 13 Cultivating the Arts in High School 128
- 14 The Correlation with Academic Achievement 138

part four : REFORM 149

- 15 Redefining the Mission: Value-Centered Arts Education 153
- 16 The Arts as Catalysts for Educational Reform 161
- 17 Overhauling Teacher Education: Can It Be Done? 169
- 18 An Agenda: What Should We Expect? 179
- 19 Prospects: How Do We Get There? 193

NOTES 205

INDEX 217