

man and the state

jacques

maritain

TABLE OF CONTENTS

*

- I. THE PEOPLE AND THE STATE 1
Nation, Body Politic, and State, p. 1.—Community and Society, p. 2.—The Nation, p. 4.—The Body Politic, p. 9.—The State, p. 12.—Normal Growth and the Simultaneous Process of Perversion, p. 19.—The People, p. 24.
- II. THE CONCEPT OF SOVEREIGNTY 28
The Point at Issue, p. 28.—Jean Bodin's Sovereign Prince, p. 30.—The Original Error, p. 34.—What Does Sovereignty Mean. The Hobbesian Mortal God, p. 36.—Neither the Body Politic nor the State Is Sovereign, p. 40.—Nor Are the People. Rousseau's Sovereign State, p. 43.—Conclusions, p. 49.
- III. THE PROBLEM OF MEANS 54
End and Means, p. 54.—The Technical Rationalization of Political Life, p. 56.—The Moral Rationalization of Political Life, p. 58.—The People's Means of Control and the Democratic State, p. 64.—The Problem of Means in a Regressive or Barbarous Society, p. 71.
- IV. THE RIGHTS OF MAN 76
Men Mutually Opposed in Their Theoretical Conceptions Can Come to a Merely Practical Agreement Regarding a List of Human Rights, p. 76.—The Philosophical Issue Deals with the Rational Foundation of Human Rights, p. 80.—Natural Law, p. 84.—The First Element (Ontological) in Natural Law, p. 85.—The Second Element (Gnoseological) in Natural Law, p. 89.—Human Rights and Natural Law, p. 95.—About Human Rights in General, p. 97.—Human Rights in Particular, p. 103.
- V. THE DEMOCRATIC CHARTER 108
The Democratic Secular Faith, p. 108.—The Political

	Heretics, p. 114.—Education and the Democratic Charter, p. 119.—Problems concerning Authority, p. 126.—The Prophetic Shock-Minorities, p. 139.
VI.	CHURCH AND STATE	147
	Preliminary Remarks, p. 147.—The General Immutable Principles. 1. The Human Person and the Body Politic, p. 148.—2. The Freedom of the Church, p. 150.—3. The Church and the Body Politic, p. 152.—The Application of the Immutable Principles in Actual Historical Existence. 1. Thesis and Hypothesis. Historical Climates and Concrete Historical Ideals, p. 154.—2. The Historical Climate of Modern Civilization, p. 157.—3. The Principle of the Superiority of the Church, p. 162.—4. The Principle of Cooperation, p. 171.—The Most General and Indirect Form of Cooperation, p. 171.—The Public Acknowledgment of the Existence of God, p. 172.—The Specific Forms of Mutual Cooperation, p. 173.—Some Practical Conclusions, p. 179.
VII.	THE PROBLEM OF WORLD GOVERNMENT	188
	The Alternative, p. 188.—Discarding the So-called Sovereignty of the State, p. 194.—Necessity for a World Political Society, p. 196.—Fully Political vs. Merely Governmental Theory, p. 201.—A Supra-national Advisory Council, p. 212.
	INDEX	217