

Edmundas GANUSAUSKAS

Target NO 1

TURINYS

Publisher's foreword	5
Preface	7
An inaugural speech of President Rolandas Paksas in the Seimas on 26 February 2003	10
Address to the nation by H. E. Mr. Rolandas Paksas, President of the Republic of Lithuania in Daukantas Square, Vilnius, 26 February 2003	15
An unexpected blow	19
The morning without a sense of foreboding	28
Echoes of the scandal – in Europe	34
The start – impetuous as the flight	38
On the screens – the faces of the politicians	42
After the victory – new attacks	45
Time of hopeful signs	47
Everybody's concern was the agreement	51
In the letters – emotions of people	54
Attraction to cheap luxury	57
President as the target	61
Meetings in Brussels were waiting	64
The task is to fulfil the programme	65
The first lunch – with the friends	67
The lord told jokes	70
No scenes made by Europe	72
Draughts of politics	80
Fighting the ghosts	83
It was not answers that judges needed	85
Law works as needed	88
The day difficult for farewell	90
Attack on the broad front	92
The united forces in operation	94
The first interrogation	96
Whatever done was of no good	98
The first President in Iraq	100

Flight dedicated to Lithuania	101
A short festivity for a soul	105
In the square – participants of the meeting	106
Marathon of meetings	109
The fall of the mayor – the start of actions	112
Each evening – to the nation	113
Labyrinths of law and ethics	115
Signals from Washington and Tarandė	118
The Council failed to defend the President	121
The aim was to ruin a visit	123
Impeachment was approaching relentlessly	124
Self-sacrifice is the value	127
A tool for removal of the President	129
In the captions – the bugaboo of mafia	133
The truth is enveloped in secrets	134
The pastors took up the struggle	136
Not ebbing wave of trials	139
The press is nothing else but the press	142
Shadows darkening the light	147
The requirement to fulfil the programme	151
Specificities of national security	154
Reporters in smocks	156
In politics no place for love	158
The programmed aim	161
On the streets in Vilnius – thousands	162
Confusion and twilight	164
A repulsive grimace	166
Verdict to the Man of the Year	167
The year as the continuous drama	169
Athens and referendum	174
In summer – in short sleeves	179
Speech by H. E. Mr. Rolandas Paksas, President of the Republic of Lithuania, during the ceremony of unveiling of the monument to King Mindaugas. Vilnius, 6 July 2003	185
Guilty for the sins of the predecessors	188
The Mayor in the role of a buffoon	193

The road paved with frauds	194
The method of fight – a sacrilege	197
Great disappointment of the professor	200
The minister spread rumours	202
February 16 – without slaps	204
Perfidy predetermines the steps	206
Absurd charges rejected	209
Security was withholding information	211
Fantasies on the theme of impeachment	214
One-year work	218
How fabrications come to life	223
Isolation of the head of the State	225
The file was returned with a cover-letter	227
Courage to come to the President	230
The professor's hand was conducting	232
Ill-fated eclipse	236
Not made himself at home in Lithuania	242
Honour of the officer is zero	246
Doctor of psychological sciences	249
The finish line of the impeachment	250
Like on the scaffold	253
Remuneration for naïve idealism	256
And who are the judges?	257
The President's word to the Seimas	261
The foreseen plan fulfilled	263
Address to the people of Lithuania by H.E. Mr. Rolandas Paksas on the eve of impeachment. 5 April 2004	265
The Speech of the President Rolandas Paksas in the Seimas before the Vote on the Impeachment against the President of the Republic of Lithuania. 6 April 2004	268
On human and civil rights	274
Epilogue	276
Index of personal names	277