2.5 Summary	32
Suggested Activities	32
Topics for Discussion	33
Suggested Readings	33
References	33

Part 2 The Stage of Orientation and Planning

Chapter 3 Prerequisite for Conducting Research: Becoming Familiar With the Body of Knowledge	37
3.1 Introduction	37

3.2	The Use of the Library	39
3.3	The Skill of Critical Reading	49
3.4	Summary	53
	Suggested Activities	54
	Topics for Discussion	54
	References	54
Chapter 4	Finding a Research Purpose	56
4.1	Introduction	56
4.2	The Identification of Areas of Concern	58
4.3	The Transformation of a Concern Into a Research Purpose	64
4.4	Summary	80
	Suggested Activities	81
	Topics for Discussion	81
	Suggested Readings	81
	References	82
Chapter 5	Research Purpose, Rationale, and Problems; Definition of Terms, and Other Delimitations	85
5.1	Introduction	85
5.2	The Connection Between Research Rationale, Purpose, and Problems/Questions: Specific Examples	86
5.3	Steps in the Development of the Research Rationale and Problems/Questions	91
5.4	Definition of Terms and Other Delimitations	95
	Suggested Activities	101
	Topics for Discussion	101
	Suggested Readings	101
	References	102
Part 3 Modes of Inquiry: Approaches to Resolving the Research Purpose/Problems
Chapter 6	Approaches to Historical Inquiry	107
6.1	Introduction	107
6.2	The Development of a Multitude of Specific Questions	108
6.3	Principles of Data Gathering and Verification Procedures	109
6.4	Oral History, Psychohistory, and Quantitative History	113
6.5	Interpretation of Historical Data and the Drawing of Conclusions	117
6.6	An Illustration of the Application of Various Methodological Approaches to Historical Inquiry	119
	Suggested Activities	125
	Topics for Discussion	125

Suggested References	Reading	126 126

	Topics for Discussion	155
	Suggested Readings	156
	References	158
Chapter 8	Approaches to Empirical Inquiry	162
8.1	Introduction	162
8.2	Some Assumptions Underlying Empirical Measurement	165
8.3	The Testing of Hypotheses	173
8.4	Purpose of Data Collection and Levels of Empirical Inquiry	174
8.5	The Process of Designing Empirical Studies	177
8.6	Drawing Conclusions and Inferences	193
	Suggested Activities	194
	Topics for Discussion	194
	Suggested Readings	194
	References	195
Chapter 9	The Development of Measurement Tools	197
9.1	Introduction	197
9.2	The Development of Survey Instruments	197
9.3	The Development of Rating Scales	205
9.4	The Construction of Tests	207
9.5	Measurement Tools for Direct Observation	213
9.6	Content Analysis	220
	Suggested Activities	224
	Topics for Discussion	224
	Suggested Readings	225
	References	226
Chapter 10	The Use of Statistics in Quantitative Data Analysis	229
10.1	Introduction	229

10.3	Basic Concepts of Parametric Statistics	232
10.4	Basic Concepts of Nonparametric Statistics	252
10.5	The Relationship of Parametric and Nonparametric Statistics to Data Analysis	256
10.6	A Word of Caution About the Use of Statistics	256
	Suggested Activities	257
	Topics for Discussion	257
	Suggested Readings	258
	References	258
Part 4 The Research Report: From the Proposal to the Publication
Chapter 11	The Writing Task in Research: Proposal, Dissertation, Journal Article, Research Paper; Code of Ethics	263
11.1	Introduction	263
11.2	The Dissertation or Thesis Proposal: Suggestions for Its Preparation	263
11.3	The Research Report: Thesis/Dissertation, Journal Article, Research Paper	267
11.4	The Code of Ethics	276
	Suggested Activities	279
	Suggested Readings	279
