

European Migration Network
Satisfying Labour Demand through Migration

TABLE OF CONTENTS

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY	4
1. INTRODUCTION	8
1.1 Methodology	9
1.2 Definitions	10
1.3 Previous Studies/Reports	10
1.3.1 EMN studies and Ad-Hoc Queries	10
1.3.2 Key issues arising from other relevant studies and reports.....	11
2. EU POLICY CONTEXT AND INSTRUMENTS	14
2.1 Policy context	14
2.2 EU Instruments	16
2.2.1 EU legislative instruments.....	16
2.2.2 EU funding	17
2.2.3 EU networks and other structures	18
2.2.4 EU Statistics.....	18
3. MEMBER STATES' APPROACH TO ECONOMIC MIGRATION POLICY	20
3.1 National Vision and Policy	20
3.1.1 Member State visions on the possible future role of migration in addressing labour shortages.....	21
3.1.2 Member State policy towards addressing labour shortages	24
3.2 Political debate and involvement of stakeholders	26
3.2.1 Debate in the political arena	27
3.2.2 Public Debate.....	28
3.2.3 Stakeholder involvement and opinion.....	29
3.3 Recent changes to national vision and policy	30
3.4 Legislative Framework	32
3.4.1 National Legislation regulating the use of migration to satisfy labour demand.....	32
3.4.2 National Legislation regulating the admission and access to employment of third-country nationals ...	32
3.4.3 Type of permits granted.....	33
3.4.4 Specific conditions applying to permits.....	34
3.4.5 Specific groups addressed.....	35
3.4.6 Other aspects of the migration process regulated by legislation.....	40
3.5 Programmes, initiatives or practical measures to use migration to satisfy labour demand	41
4. IMPLEMENTATION OF ECONOMIC MIGRATION POLICY AND LEGISLATION	43
4.1 Approaches and tools for the identification and management of labour demands	43
4.1.1 Approaches for identifying and managing labour demands	43
4.1.2 Institutional bodies responsible for the identification and management of labour demand.....	47
4.1.3 Participation of employers and occupational organisations in the identification and management of labour shortages	47
4.1.4 Tools for identifying and mapping labour demands	48
4.2 Mechanisms for the purposes of job-matching	50
4.3 Mechanisms for skills assessments and recognition of qualifications of migrants.....	51
4.3.1 Skills assessment.....	51
4.3.2 Recognition of qualifications	52
4.4 Integration measures for migrant workers	54
5. STATISTICS ON MIGRANTS IN THE NATIONAL LABOUR FORCE	56
5.1 Occupations and Sectors identified for labour shortages in Member States	56
5.2 Statistics on labour market and migration	58
5.2.1 Analysis of Stock of migrant workers	59
5.2.2 Analysis of the inflow of migrant workers by categories of skill	75
5.2.3 Analysis of vacancies in Member States.....	82

6. CO-OPERATION WITH THIRD COUNTRIES FOR ECONOMIC MIGRATION	92
6.1 Cooperation agreements with third countries	92
6.1.1 Cooperation agreements including employment and labour migration	93
6.1.2 Cooperation agreements concerning specific groups of labour migrants	95
6.2 Mechanisms to prevent brain drain and brain waste	96
7. SATISFYING LABOUR DEMAND THROUGH MIGRATION ACCORDING TO EURO CITIES	98
7.1 Specific city visions on the role of migration in meeting current and future labour market needs	98
7.2 The role of cities in facilitating the arrival of newcomers and leading on integration	99
7.3 Local Schemes to identify labour market needs through migration	99
7.4 Political debates on migration at local level	100
7.5 Cooperation with third countries on economic migration at local level	101
7.6 Vacancies in labour markets in European cities	101
8. SATISFYING LABOUR DEMAND THROUGH MIGRATION – ANALYSIS	102
8.1 Root Causes of Labour Shortages	102
8.1.1 Quantitative Shortages	102
8.1.2 Qualitative Shortages	103
8.2 Problems encountered with regard to the filling of labour shortages	103
8.3 Other aspects influencing the Labour Market	104
8.3.1 Intra-EU mobility of EU workers	105
8.3.2 Illegally resident third-country nationals working in specific occupations or sectors	105
8.3.3 Return of Economic Migrants	105
8.4 Measures used to effectively address labour shortages	105
8.5 Identified needs for consolidation and further development of policies and legislation to better facilitate economic migration to satisfy labour demand	106
9. CONCLUDING REMARKS	108
TABLES
Table 1: Duration periods for Seasonal Workers in Member States	38
Table 2: Duration of Stay for Intra-Corporate Transferees	40
Table 3: Approaches used by Member States to identify and manage labour demand	44
Table 4: Overview of the use of specific tools in the implementation of approaches for identifying and managing labour demand	48
Table 5: Stock of Third-Country National Workers by main category of skill level and by year	60
Table 6: Proportion of workers in selected occupations, by Member State and year	64
Table 7: Proportion of third-country national workers in different Member States by main countries of nationality, in 2004 and 2009	72
Table 8: Inflow to employment of migrant workers, by main category of skill level, Member State and year	77
Table 9: First (residence) permits issued for remunerated activities, by top ten countries of citizenship at EU level and type of work permit, in 2009	82
Table 10: Job vacancies and job vacancy rates in Member States by skills level, 2004 to 2009	83
Table 11: Job vacancies, by number and rate, in Member States by type of economic activity (NACE), 2008 and 2009	88
FIGURE
Figure 1: Distribution, by percentage, of Third-Country National Workers by main category of skill level, by average of total years available	62