

Early Childhood Education

History, Philosophy and Experience

Cathy Nutbrown
Peter Clough
Philip Selbie

Contents

About the authors	ix
Acknowledgements	x
Introduction	1
1 A Short History of Early Childhood Education	3
The legacy of history	3
Early childhood education in the UK: a brief history	4
Foundation stones: some key figures whose work has influenced thinking and development of provision for young children	8
Into the twenty-first century: twenty years of policy change	15
Understanding recent history: 1998-2008	15
Into the future, learning from the past	17
2 The Pioneers: Their Lives and Works	19
Socrates	22
Jan Amos Komensky (Comenius)	23
Jean-Jacques Rousseau	25
Johann Heinrich Pestalozzi	27
Robert Owen	30
Friedrich Froebel	32
Charles Dickens	34
Charlotte Mason	36
Sigmund Freud	38
Rachel McMillan	40
John Dewey	42
Margaret McMillan	44
Rudolf Steiner	46
Maria Montessori	49
Alexander Sutherland (A. S.) Neill	52
Susan Sutherland Isaacs	54
Louis Christian Schiller	56
Lev Semyonovich Vygotsky	57
Donald Woods Winnicott	58
Jean Piaget	60

Erik Erikson	62
Carl Rogers	65
Burrhus Frederic (B. F.) Skinner	67
Robin Tanner	69
3 Talking of Early Childhood Education: Six 'Conversations'	71
1. So, who needs history?	74
2. Why early childhood education?	90
3. What motivates young children to learn?	102
4. How do young children learn?	112
5. Literacy in the early years: a pedagogy of patience?	120
6. From God and Church to awe and wonder: spirituality and creativity in early childhood education	128
4 Plus change ...?	141
1. Children's rights	142
2. The arts and creativity	146
3. Literacy	151
4. Play, learning and pedagogy	154
5. Early intervention	158
6. Home learning and parents	166
7. Inclusion	170
Conclusion	179
What is education for?	179
What is early education for?	180
So who needs history?	181
References, further reading historical archives and other sources consulted	183
Author Index	199
Subject Index	201