

Second Edition

Engagement in Teaching History

Theory and Practices for Middle and Secondary Teachers

Frederick D. Drake
Lynn R. Nelson

Contents

Part I Theoretical Background 1

1 Teaching History 2

The History Laboratory 4

The Present and the Past 5

Organizing History Around Questions 9

Ideas for the History Classroom: Potential Organizing Questions for Your History Class 10 • Ideas for the History Classroom: Historians' Questions and History Teaching 11 • Ideas for the History Classroom: Ten Persistent Questions Drawn from Western Historiography 12

Primary Sources and Interpretive Narrative Sources 12

Importance of Historical Thinking 13

History as an Essential School Subject 18

Understanding the Meanings of History 20

The Relationship Between History and Civic Education 23

Deliberative Discussions 25

Summary 26

Translating History into Classroom Practice 27

Activity 1.1: Creating an Image of History 27

Activity 1.2: Examples of Fourth Graders' Images of History 27

Activity 1.3: Procedures for Creating an Image of History (for Middle and High School Students) 29

Activity 1.4: Teaching Historiography Through Photographs 30

Reviewing the Chapter 31

2 The History of Teaching History

32

Searching for the Golden Age of History Education 34

History, Primary Sources, and Literature 34

History in the Common School 35

U.S. History Rivals World and General History	35
Mimetic and Transformative Traditions of Teaching	36
Interest Groups Vie to Control the Schools' Curricula	36
History as a Core Discipline	40
Ideas for the History Classroom: Effective Methods of Teaching History	41
History and the Creation of Social Studies	42
History and the New Social Studies Projects	43
History and the Decision-Making Model	44
History on the Wane	45
History Makes a Revival	46
Social Studies Defined	47
History Makes a Revival Again	48
Internal Disputes	48
Summary	49
Translating History into Classroom Practice	50
Activity 2.1: Interview a History, Social Science, or Social Studies Professor	50
Activity 2.2: Interview a Parent, Grandparent, Relative, or Neighbor	50
Reviewing the Chapter	50

3 Historical Thinking

52

What Is Historical Thinking?	54
Historical Thinking and Historical Consciousness	55
Historical Thinking and Causal Explanations	55
Historical Thinking and Frame of Reference	57
The Need to Teach Historical Thinking	57
Structured Analysis Guides and Creative Historical Thinking	60
Ideas for the History Classroom: Classification Framework of Historical Thinking	60
Students' Minds Are Not Blank Slates	61
Ideas for the History Classroom: Annotated Primary Source Analysis Guide to Historical Thinking: Print Documents (including Heuristics)	63
Ideas for the History Classroom: Annotated Primary Source Analysis Guide to Historical Thinking: Photographs/Images (including Heuristics)	64
Teaching Scaffolds	65
Creating a Framework for Meaningful Learning	65
Ideas for the History Classroom: Dimensions of a Lecture	67
Ideas for the History Classroom: The Cone of Experience and Jerome Bruner's Stages	68
Summary	68

Translating History into Classroom Practice	69
Activity 3.1: Jerome Bruner's Three Stages of Thinking	69
Activity 3.2: Creating an Analysis Guide	69
Activity 3.3: Historical Thinking and Teaching	69
Reviewing the Chapter	71

Part II Planning and Assessment 73

4 Organizing Your History Courses: Making Content Choices	74
The Issue of Time	76
The Purpose of History Education	76
Chronological Organization of History	77
Thematic Organization of History	79
Comparative History Approach	80
Content Choices for World History	83
Content Choices for U.S. History	84
Ideas for the History Classroom: Three Models for Organizing a Global/World History Course	85
The Past as a Wooded Thicket	88
Summary	89
Translating History into Classroom Practice	89
Activity 4.1: The Ecology of Teaching	89
Activity 4.2: Knowledge of Political History	90
Activity 4.3: Political History at the Core of Teaching	91
Activity 4.4: Ten Essential Elements of Education for Democracy in Schools	91
Activity 4.5: Teaching English Learners: Moving the Past into the Present	94
Reviewing the Chapter	95
5 Lesson and Unit Planning	96
Textbooks and Standards	98
Lesson Plans	98
Ideas for the History Classroom: Lesson Plan Format	100
Creating a Unit Plan	103
Ideas for the History Classroom: Unit Plan Matrix	105
Summary	110
Translating History into Classroom Practice	110
Activity 5.1: Lesson Plans and Effective Teaching	110
Activity 5.2: Creating Prompts for a Stations Strategy	111
Reviewing the Chapter	111

6	Creating Historical Understanding and Communication Through Performance Assessment	112
	Performance Assessment and Historical Literacy	114
	Knowledge Dimension	115
	Reasoning Dimension	116
	Communication Dimension	116
	A History Rubric	117
	A History Rubric for Performance Assessment	118
	Recommendations Regarding the Use of Rubrics	121
	Samples of Performance Assessment	122
	Ideas for the History Classroom: Prompt for Famous Personalities, World History	123
	• Ideas for the History Classroom: Famous Personalities, World History	124
	• Ideas for the History Classroom: Prompt for Famous Personalities, U.S. History	126
	• Ideas for the History Classroom: Famous Personalities, U.S. History	127
	Summary	133
	Translating History into Classroom Practice	134
	Activity 6.1: Remembering the Louisiana Purchase	134
	Activity 6.2: Creating Your Own Performance Assessment Strategy	134
	Reviewing the Chapter	135
Part III	Instruction	137
7	Using Primary Sources: The First-, Second-, and Third-Order Approach	138
	Five Typologies of Primary Sources	140
	Conventional Practices in Using Primary Sources	140
	Using First-, Second-, and Third-Order Primary Sources	142
	Ideas for the History Classroom: Defining First-, Second-, and Third-Order Documents	143
	Selecting First- and Second-Order Documents	143
	An Example of the First-, Second-, and Third-Order Approach	144
	The Importance of Asking Questions	145
	Ideas for the History Classroom: Primary Source Analysis Guide to Historical Thinking: Print Documents	147
	Editing First- and Second-Order Documents	147
	Ideas for the History Classroom: Primary Source Analysis Guide to Historical Thinking: Photograph/Image	148
	Historical Narrative; The First-, Second-, and Third-Order Approach; and Analysis Guides	149

Assessing Historical Knowledge, Understanding, and Dispositions	150
Ideas for the History Classroom: Classification Framework of Historical Thinking 151
Summary	152
Translating History into Classroom Practice	153
Activity 7.1: Doing History Research Kit 153
Activity 7.2: Doing History Research Team Kits 154
Reviewing the Chapter	154
8 Considering and Doing Discussion in History Teaching	156
The Importance of Discussion	159
Variations of Discussions	159
Doing Discussions in Your Classroom	163
Initiating Inquiry	162
Ideas for the History Classroom: Dorothea Lange Photograph 164
Deliberating on Time and Place	167
Ideas for the History Classroom: Promoting Discussion of Readings for All Students 168
Varying Sources to Engage Students in Discussion	169
Ideas for the History Classroom: Modeling Historical Thinking 169
Summary	170
Translating History into Classroom Practice	170
Activity 8.1: Organizing a Deliberative Discussion 170
Activity 8.2: History and Effective Discussions 170
Activity 8.3: Marketing a Strategy for a Network Discussion Program 171
Reviewing the Chapter	171
9 Using Historical Images to Engage Your Students in the Past	172
Variety of Teaching Methods	174
Using Images to Engage Your Students in Discussions	175
Strategy 1: Analyzing an Image for Discussion: The People, Space, and Time Strategy	176
Ideas for the History Classroom: People, Space, and Time Image Analysis Strategy 177
Strategy 2: Analyzing an Image for Discussion: Similarities and Differences	178
Ideas for the History Classroom: Similarities and Differences Image Analysis Strategy 179
Strategy 3: Analyzing an Image for Discussion: Quadrantal/Hemispheric Analysis	179

	Ideas for the History Classroom: Quadrantal/Hemispheric Image Analysis Strategy	181
	Summary	181
	Translating History into Classroom Practice	182
	Activity 9.1: Creating Your Own People, Space, and Time Image Analysis Strategy	182
	Activity 9.2: Creating Your Own Similarities and Differences Image Analysis Strategy	182
	Activity 9.3: Creating Your Own Quadrantal/Hemispheric Image Analysis Strategy	182
	Reviewing the Chapter	183
10	Using Writing to Engage Your Students in the Past	184
	Writing and Historical Knowledge	186
	Guidelines for Writing Assignments	188
	Ideas for the History Classroom: Writing to Different Audiences	188
	Three Types of Writing	190
	The Importance of Paragraphs	191
	Effective Writing Assignments	192
	Summary	197
	Translating History into Classroom Practice	197
	Activity 10.1: Creating Your Own Writing Assignment	197
	Activity 10.2: Devising a Writing Assignment Related to a Period or Era of History	197
	Activity 10.3: Adapting Sample Writing Assignment Prompts to Your History Class	198
	Reviewing the Chapter	198
	Conclusion	199
	Endnotes	205
	Glossary	220
	Index	223

Note: Every effort has been made to provide accurate and current Internet information in this book. However, the Internet and information posted on it are constantly changing, so it is inevitable that some of the Internet addresses in this textbook will change.