

anna sands

falling for therapy

psychotherapy from a client's point of view

Contents

---

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Acknowledgements                                | vi  |
| Introduction                                    | vii |
| 1 What's the problem?                                  | 1   |
| 2 Beginnings and endings                               | 9   |
| 3 Theory – and practice                                | 18  |
| 4 Who calls the tune?                                  | 29  |
| 5 The power of language                                | 39  |
| 6 Blind alleys   | 49  |
| 7 Transference – cure or catch-22?                     | 64  |
| 8 In the dark room                                     | 78  |
| 9 Burning bridges                                      | 91  |
| 10 Survival of the fittest?                            | 102 |
| 11 The compulsion to repeat – who needs what?          | 111 |
| 12 The problem of attachment                           | 121 |
| 13 When 'therapy' traumatises                          | 130 |
| 14 The straitjacket of analysis                        | 144 |
| 15 Responsibility                                      | 158 |
| 16 Accountability                                      | 171 |
| 17 The healing art?                                    | 187 |
| 18 Will you, won't you . . . won't you join the dance? | 197 |
| Appendix  | 203 |
| References                                      | 207 |